CARRANZA LIKELY TO COMPLY WITH U. S. CONDITIONS

Report that Huerta Is Ready to Step Out Encourages Administration.

LIND IS AWAITING WORD

Expects Message from Mr. O'Shaughnessy Notifying Him He May Return to Mexico City.

By JOSEPH P. ANNIN.

Advices received at the State Department yesterday from Dr. William Bayard Hale, the President's unofficial Ambassador to Gen. Carranza, revolutionist leader, are believed to have informed the department that the Constitutional leader is ready to accept the conditions imposed upon him in return for our open friendship for his cause.

These, in connection with undeniable evidences from Mexico City that Huerta at last is ready to yield to the force of world opinion and content to the setting up of a provisional government unsullied by connection with his blood-stained regime, served further to encourage the administration yesterday.

But even if Huerta persists in his determination to fall only with his toppling regime, Carranza's pledges, together with the certainty that Huerta cannot last much longer, have injected further rays of optimism into the administration viewpoint on Mexico.

If the worst comes to the worst, and the downfall of Huerta requires extraordinary measures looking to the protection of lives and property of foreigners at Vera Cruz and Mexico City, President Wilson may authorize the transportation of sufficient marines to these points to protect interests pending the arrival of the Constitutional forces, providing always that Carranza's pledges bear sufficient force to seem to warrant recognition by the United States of his government.

Advices Are Encouraging.

The State Department was in communication with all three of its official and unofficial representatives in Mexico yesterday. Word of encouraging nature was received from Charge O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City. Mr. O'Shaughnessy's telegram indicated a strong belief that Huerta has decided at last to accede to the demands of the United States, having been informed, directly or indirectly, by representatives of the other powers, that he cannot expect moral or financial aid from their governments in opposition to the wishes of this government. Gov. Lind, it is reported, now holds himself in readiness for, and has been given to expect, a message from Charge O'Shaughnessy, notifying him that he may return to Mexico City from Vera Cruz in expectation of a complete surrender by Huerta. Mr. Lind, treating with Gen. Carranza in Nogales, Sonora, continues to send optimistic reports.

Because of the very nearness of success, the administration regards the situation now as particularly delicate, and information was not forthcoming from the customary sources yesterday. Much interest centered around Huerta's success in the Provisional Government in the event that the dictator decides to hand

SLEUTHS SEEK FORMER EMPLOYEE OF SENATOR

Warrant Issued for Sidney Mouthrop, Accused of Forging Pindell "Letter."

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—City Hall detectives are looking for Sidney Mouthrop, formerly employed by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois on the charge of forgery.

A warrant for Mouthrop's arrest was brought to this city by Joseph R. Sullivan, secretary to Senator Lewis, and it is understood the charge against Mouthrop includes that of forging Senator Lewis' name to the letter recently made public in which Henry M. Pindell, of Peoria, Ill., proprietor of a newspaper, was offered the appointment of United States Ambassador to Russia, with the understanding he would resign in a year and in the interim would have no duties to perform.

Mouthrop, according to Captain of Detectives Cameron, has been living in this city with his wife. Cameron refused to give the location of the man's home, but said he expected to take him into custody within a short time.

Mouthrop was released from the Eastern Penitentiary in this city about a year ago after serving three years for forgery and embezzlement charges. He was a partner in the manufacture of cotton goods manufacturer, and a member of the Millville Manufacturing Company and the Wawa-Rye Company. The amount involved in the fraud charges, it was said, amounted to $25,000.

Mouthrop is said to be about thirty-eight years old. He was employed by Mr. Wood as a confidential clerk.

LABOR MEN OPPOSE PANAMA ARBITRATION

Warm Discussion at A. F. of L. Convention Over Canal Dispute with Great Britain.

WANT ALL ASIATICS EXCLUDED

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 14.—Important resolutions precipitated sharp discussion among delegates of the American Federation of Labor today. They included a demand for general elections at which all voters of the nation may decide important questions; exclusion of all Asiatics from the United States; Federal investigation into conditions on the Pennsylvania Railroad; and refusal to arbitrate the Panama Canal question with Great Britain.

Opponents of Panama arbitration declared that the submission of the question of America's right to regulate its own affairs to a foreign board would be preposterous. Indications were that all the resolutions would be adopted.

EUGENICS HOPE OF HUMAN RACE

Topic of Dr. Holt in Address at Infant Mortality Convention.

DEATH RATE TOO HIGH

Saving of Babies Called Big Economic Problem—More Thorough Instruction of Physicians Urged.

Eugenic marriage was held out last night as the most promising hope of those who are working for the betterment of the human race by Dr. L. Emmett Holt, of New York, president of the American Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality. Dr. Holt addressed the delegates to the convention of the association at the National Museum, following an all-day session at the Willard.

Much of the blame for the present high death rate among young babies was laid by Dr. Holt to the extensive employment of women in factories. He said that the saving of the babies was the most important economic problem confronting any nation, and that the United States had been disastrously behind most of the other civilized countries in the study of this problem. Dr. Holt spoke on the changed attitude of society toward child life since the early days, and outlined the development of the work to prevent infant mortality.

The morning session was devoted to a discussion by nurses and doctors of the relation of correct nursing to the death rate of infants, and in the afternoon a number of medical authorities on this subject told of the latest discoveries.

More Instruction Demanded.

"Educate the Educators" was the battle cry of several of the specialists on baby saving, and there was a general

ALLEGED MURPHY "BAGMAN" INDICTED

Everett P. Fowler Faces Trial on Extortion Charge as Result of Whitman Probe.

CONTRACTOR GIVES EVIDENCE

New York, Nov. 14.—Everett P. Fowler, of Kingston, former Democratic State committee member and reputed "bagman" for Tammany Hall in the collection of funds from highway contractors, today was indicted on a charge of extortion. This indictment is the result of District Attorney Whitman's John Doe inquiry into the highway graft charges made by John A. Hennessy in the recent Mayoralty campaign.

Fowler, if convicted, is liable to a sentence of fifteen years in prison.

The evidence on which Fowler was indicted was furnished by Seneca P. Hull, contractor, of Cortland. He testified that he had been forced under threat of losing his contract for highway work to turn over a check for $250 to Fowler for use by the Democratic State committee in the 1912 campaign. The check was made out to the order of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the committee. From Mack it went to Treasurer Arthur A. O'Leary, of the committee, and was deposited in the Fourth National Bank of this city. District Attorney Whitman has been unable to find that any accounting was made of this contribution.

OVERSIGHT HALTS HIS CAREER AS SECRETARY

Sauntering of Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison by Mikado Laid to Door of Gerald B. Seldombridge.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 14.—The arrival of Gerald B. Seldombridge, who went to the Philippines as secretary to Governor General Francis Burton Harrison today was accompanied by a report that he was discharged because he was blamed for Mrs. Harrison being snubbed by the Mikado when the Governor General's party was in Tokyo.

It was said that Seldombridge failed to include the name of Mrs. Harrison in the list of the members of the party and when Governor General Harrison was admitted to the presence of the Mikado Mrs. Harrison was not received. She had purchased a gorgeous gown to be worn on the occasion.

Seldombridge declined to discuss the story today. Passengers who arrived with him on the army transport related it and said it was generally accepted in Manila as the reason why Seldombridge was secretary there only a short time after the Governor General's return from Japan.

STORM'S TOLL SET AT MORE THAN 300 LIVES

Nineteen Mammoth Freighters Sink in Lakes, Besides Many Smaller Boats.

SHIPPING DAMAGE, $10,000,000

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The most disastrous storm in the history of the Great Lakes exacted a toll of over 300 lives, sent to the bottom or totally wrecked nineteen mammoth freight steamers, and caused a property loss in boats alone of $10,000,000. Many small craft were demolished, and of the loss on these no definite estimates have been made. Marine underwriters are devoting their time to estimating losses on the large freighters.

All the immense freighters sunk or wrecked carried cargoes consisting mostly of coal, grain, or iron ore. No estimate has been made of the value of cargoes lost. Latest reports show that forty-four vessels were sunk or wrecked, and the end is not yet.

Sault Ste. Marie tonight reported the loss of the tug Tempest and steel tow barge No. 1. The Tempest carried a crew of fourteen men and the barge seven. The tug left the Sault a week ago Wednesday bound for Marquette, Wis.

HOPKINS ELOPES AND WEDS AGAIN

Young Society Man Secretly Married to Miss Marguerite Upton.

WENT TO BELAIR, MD.

Former Husband of Now Mrs. "Chap- pie" Galt Was Bridegroom September 1.

That Sherbourne P. ("Herby") Hopkins, son of S. G. Hopkins, the prominent lawyer-agent in this city of the Masterlocks of Mexico, whose elopement with Miss Margaret Ordway Maury, great granddaughter of a former Mayor of Washington, several years ago created a sensation, was one of the principals in another elopement became known last night, when a telegram from Belair, Md., announced that he married Miss Marguerite Upton there on September 1 last.

For more than two months the couple, who have been living in this city at the Hopkins residence, 1411 S. Street Northwest, have kept their marriage a secret. All inquiries as to whether they were married elicited evasive answers. Finally it leaked out that the ceremony had been solemnized at Belair. A telegram flashed to that place brought the following response:

Wed in Belair, Md.

"License was issued in the clerk's office here September 1 last to Sherbourne P. Hopkins, of New York City, aged twenty-one, and Marguerite Upton, aged twenty-four, of Denver, Colo. They were married by the Rev. A. Martin Hallock, a Presbyterian minister here."

Inquiries at the Hopkins home upon receipt of the telegram brought word that none of the members of the family was at home.

"Do you know whether Mr. Hopkins married Miss Archibald or Miss Marguerite Upton?" was an inquiry put by phone to a person at the Hopkins home late last night.

"I can answer no questions," was the reply.

"He has been seen frequently in the company of Miss Archibald," said the interviewer. "Is Miss Upton and Miss Archibald one and the same person?"

The person on the other end of the wire professed to know "absolutely nothing of Mr. Hopkins' marital ventures."

While "Miss Marguerite Upton, of Denver, Colo.," is the name given in the license at Belair, friends of Mr. Hopkins stated last night that the present Mrs. Archibald was formerly Miss Marie Archibald, of Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md.

Sherbourne G. Hopkins, father of the young bridegroom, corroborated the report late last night that his son was married in Belair.

"They confided their secret to me and I have faithfully kept it for them," said Mr. Hopkins.

After eloping to Baltimore several years ago with Miss Margaret Ordway Maury, one of the most beautiful girls in the city, young Hopkins and his bride were separated, the parents of both deeming the couple too young. The marriage was subsequently annulled. Miss Maury later married Walter Allen Galt, better known as "Chappie" Galt, son of an old Virginia family.

LIGHT LEFT BURNING AT WHIM OF CHILD CAUSES $4,500 FIRE

Mrs. Samuel A. Richardson, When Curtain Is Ignited, Saves Lives of Three of Family.

A gas jet left burning in a room to satisfy the whim of four-year-old William Richardson, who "can't sleep in the dark," caused $4,500 damage by fire last night at 1222 Columbia Road, the home of Samuel A. Richardson and his brother, Earl Kent Richardson.

The only persons at home were Mrs. S. A. Richardson, her mother-in-law and the two children—Wanda, aged six, and little William. Mrs. Richardson, after putting the children to bed, went downstairs. Later she heard William walking around the room and called to him to go to sleep. He replied that the curtain was "too bright."

The child, in leaning out of his bed, pulled the curtain over the gas jet. Picking up the two children, Mrs. Richardson carried them to the street and assisted her mother-in-law from the house. By the time an alarm was sounded the entire attic was ablaze. Three thousand persons watched the fire. The loss is covered by insurance.

SUNSET LINES' STRIKE TO BE TAKEN UP TODAY

Government Mediators Will Act, Following Request of Two Louisiana Senators.

COTTON SHIPMENTS DELAYED

The government board of mediators, of which Judge Knapp, of the Commerce Court, is chairman, created to adjust labor troubles in the railroad world, will meet today to take up the case of the strike on the Sunset lines running between New Orleans and points in Texas.

The subject was directed to the attention of President Wilson yesterday by Senators Randall and Thornton of Louisiana. They declared that, unless the strike was settled speedily, it would result in the loss of millions of dollars to the State of Louisiana. The President gave assurances that the Federal administration would take cognizance of the matter.

Chairman Knapp, of the Board of Mediation and Conciliation, who has had long experience in dealing with strikes on railroads, returned to Washington and immediately called a meeting of the board for today.

Undoubtedly every effort will be made to bring the strike to an end through mediation and conciliation, and, failing in that direction, they will suggest that the troubles that have separated employees and employers on the Sunset lines be submitted to a board of arbitration.

Advices received here are to the effect that millions of dollars' worth of cotton on the Sunset lines is ready to be shipped and that even a week's delay would cause enormous loss to planters and others. Fear also is expressed that, unless the trouble on the Sunset lines is adjusted, sympathetic strikes involving practically all the Pacific coast may be called.

It is altogether probable that, following the meeting today, members of the board, or officials representing it, will start for New Orleans for conference with the strike leaders and officers of the Sunset lines.

YOUTH AND GIRL OF SEVEN VANISH

Thomas Emmons Is Missing with Child of Couple with Whom He Lived.

GRIEF-CRAZED, IT IS SAID

Young Man Spoke of Losing Family by Death—Mother Aids Aid of Washington Herald.

Taking with him pretty Harriet Grant, seven-year-old daughter of Frank F. Grant, of 40 C Street Northwest, Thomas L. Emmons, nineteen years old, is being sought by the police throughout the District. Mr. and Mrs. Grant, prostrated with grief, asked the aid of The Washington Herald in finding their child.

About six months ago the Grant family took Emmons to their home and befriended him. Emmons became fond of the little girl. One day he told Grant his parents, one brother and two sisters all died within a month and his home in Toronto, Canada, was ruined by the Grim Reaper. Little Harriet looked just like the little sister he once had, he told her parents.

Went to Buy Candy.

Yesterday morning, shortly before 12 o'clock, Harriet asked permission of her mother to go to a near-by store with "Tom," as she had learned to call Emmons, to buy some candy. Up until a late hour last night she was still missing.

It is believed by detectives working on the case that Emmons temporarily has been driven mad by the loss of his family, and that he really believes the little Grant girl to be the baby sister who died.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Grant became alarmed. The Sixth Precinct was notified. Precinct Detective Harry Evans took Grant to headquarters, and there the father gave a full description of Emmons and his daughter. Central Office Detective Burlingame was assigned to the case.

Burlingame learned a man and little girl answering the description of Emmons and Harriet purchased tickets for Baltimore and left over the electric line. Grant told the police that before leaving his home Emmons took $25 belonging to him.

Description of the Two.

Emmons is described as being five feet seven inches tall, weighing 120 pounds, slender, with light hair and light complexion, smooth face, sharp features, and wearing a gray checked Norfolk suit, gray hat with black band, and high black shoes. The girl was dressed in a light plaid dress, with red velvet hat, long blue coat, black shoes and stockings. Her hair is light and curly. Her complexion is fair.

DETROIT-THIEF IS TRAILED THROUGH COIN

Part of Collection of Waldo Newcomer, Noted Numismatist, Is Recovered.

New York, Nov. 14.—Waldo Newcomer, president of the National Exchange Bank, of Baltimore, is the central figure in a tale which reads like fiction.

He notified the police of Baltimore several months ago that his home had been robbed and a collection of gold and silver coins, valued at over $25,000 because of their antiquity and rareness, had been stolen.

Subsequently Stanley R. Walker, who has charge of the safe deposit boxes in the Corn Exchange State Deposit and Trust Company, of this city, stopped at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Philadelphia. He presented a $50 gold piece in payment of his board bill and was informed that the coin was an old rare one.

This $50 coin, of an old mintage, was shown to S. H. Chapman, numismatist of Philadelphia, and he identified it as one he had sold to Newcomer over twenty years ago. Walker was asked where he got the coin and explained that it was given to him by Frederick Hoitz when he engaged a strong box in the vaults of the Corn Exchange Bank.

Detective today located Hoitz on a farm in Kingston, N. Y. He was placed under arrest, charged by Newcomer with having stolen the coins while he was employed as a detective to guard them.

Shortly after 5 o'clock he became violently ill and died in a few minutes. Autopsy indicated poisoning from eating a large plate of his favorite food was the immediate cause of death.

CORN BEEF MEAL IS FATAL

Thomas Hutchinson Dies After Partaking of Favorite Food.

Shortly after 8 o'clock he became violently ill and died in a few minutes. Autopsy indicated poisoning from eating a large plate of his favorite food was the immediate cause of death.

TAFT DESCRIBES WORLD TRAVELS, PRAISING JAPAN

Former President Delivers Lecture Before National Geographic Society.

EMPEROR MOST LIBERAL

Service in Philippines Recounted and Roosevelt Mentioned—Tribute to "Army Woman."

Paying the highest tribute to the Japanese people, and describing his visits to Tokyo, former President William Howard Taft, in a lecture before the National Geographic Society at the New Museum Temple yesterday afternoon and evening, criticized present-day tendencies to disregard the rights of the Japanese in this country.

"It is not true that the statement of Japan want war with the United States," said the former President in a ringing voice, "and when Homer Lea speaks of war between Japan and the United States he proceeds to argue on a supposition that will never realize. We made a gentleman's argument with Japan with regard to the immigration question, and they have kept it to the letter."

The Danger of War.

"The only danger of war is the creation of race prejudice against the Japanese among our people which naturally will have its corresponding effect among the Japanese people. The Japanese government has kept its faith, and now we must keep faith with it. It is in the interest of the people of the whole world that we keep on peaceful terms with them, and those Japanese who are born in our country ought to be treated without discrimination against them on account of their race."

"The importance of a knowledge of Geography" was the theme of the former President's lecture, and, in referring to his former office as Governor of the Philippines and the government of the islands, Prof. Taft placed himself on record as being opposed to making any definite promises to the Filipino people as regards self-government and independence for the islands unless those promises are strictly carried out. The speaker said it was a great mistake to permit the Filipino labor under a false impression regarding independence, and that it was a serious mistake if the views of almost uneducated Filipino politicians are followed.

Of Miss C. Worcester, Prof. Taft had words of the highest praise. "Dorothy Worcester knows what he is talking about," said the speaker, "and if he says a thing is so, it is so, no matter who contradicts him."

Load and continued applause greeted the former President when he was introduced by Gilbert H. Grosvenor, director of the society.

President Taft said that since 1909 he had traveled about 150,000 miles, which he said he hoped had given him broader views on international and national affairs.

The speaker related how in 1906 he received a letter from Elihu Root inviting him to Washington to confer with President McKinley, and how he had told Mrs. Taft that he would be satisfied with life if he could spend a common plea judge in Hamilton County.

Roosevelt's Peace Efforts.

In the course of his lecture he mentioned the name of President Roosevelt in connection with the bringing about of peace between Russia and Japan without making any comments. He also mentioned the name of Alice Roosevelt, and said that she as well as he had been cartooned while on their visit in Japan as being seated on chairs which rested on a turtle, this meaning that there was nothing lower and more contemptible than a turtle. This, the speaker said, happened at a time when the Japanese people became acquainted with the fact that Russia was not to pay any indemnity, partly blaming the United States for it.

Speaking of the life of army officers in the islands and the invaluable services rendered by their wives, the speaker paid high praise to the "army woman," her services, her courage and loyalty. He also spoke in laudable terms of the magazine of the society, and said that "there is no pandering to taste for muckraking or sex problems, which seem to be the principal themes of the magazines of today."
